Foreword

This is us . . . we're young and proud of it. Our interests vary from Geometry to Spike Jones, from Home Economics to Saturday night dates. The world we're growing up in will soon be our world, all wrapped up in bright blue airways. Modern air power has made 20,000 miles a non-stop journey. The world is smaller than it's ever been, and we want to keep it that way for the sake of fellowship, freedom, and peace!

It will always be the way it is now, all of my love to you, Henry

The period of time during which our grandparents, ourselves, and our grandchildren live will probably be called by historians, centuries hence, "The Air Age," forerunner and partner of "The Atomic Age".

Air power and its potentialities are the oil which keep the international industry and economics of the world running smoothly. Without the air-borne might of the Allies, the Second World War might yet be taking the best men and materials from our country . . . and without commercial air power, the peace is not to be won.

Since the planes and people that have conquered the skies are all-important in our lives today, we dedicate this book to them and their effect on our future.

To further the cause of promoting better grades and citizenship, we have sponsored the organization of the Nathaniel Pryor Chapter of the National Honor Society. Plans have been made to continue activities in this line.

Band in Action

"Make it a little softer. Smooth those tones over," says Mr. Ellis, the school band director, as the band room echoes to the strains of the "Missouri Waltz" or some other beautiful musical score. The Pryor Band has progressed steadily from its meager beginning in '44 when Director R. O. Williams, who resigned because of illness after one-half semester this year, began with 12 pieces. It now consists of 42 members, with appropriate instrumentation to accommodate this number of players.

Its activities not only included attending all the football games but playing for numerous assemblies, attending a band festival held in Muskogee, and giving various concerts, including its spring concert, for civic organizations and the general public. By means of this well-rounded program, musical appreciation has been fostered in the city of Pryor not only in the younger people but also in the adult population.

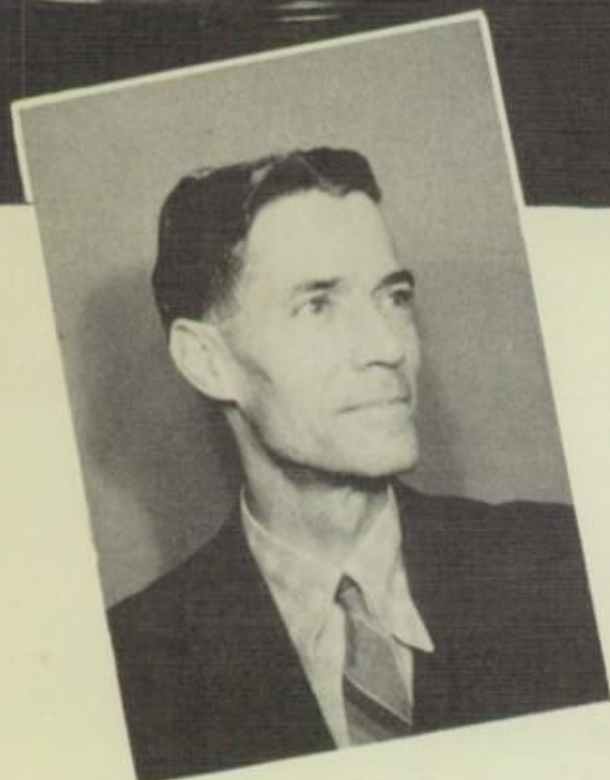

Next year the band is looking forward to even greater progress, and with hard work and steady persistence, this goal will be reached.

We Cruise for News

"We'll never make the deadline," sighs Editor Gerald as he thumbs through page after page of stories and articles. Working day after day under the capable leadership of Ward Neel, Sponsor, the journalism staff gathers news, secures data, and edits articles. But this is only a small portion of the multitude of duties which confront the journalism class. So many things occur unexpectedly that the "Tiger" staff is kept on its toes constantly. After all the work is done, however, and the paper comes off the press, each member of the staff feels a personal satisfaction in knowing that he has done his part, no matter how small, in creating the Pryor Tiger.

*Best Wisher
Coach "Honey"*

COACH HUNSAKER

Our hard-driving Tiger squad hit the season with a will to win and battled Sand Springs to a scoreless tie in the first game. Losing the second to a fighting Grove eleven in the last 3 minutes of play, the Tigers came back and knocked off the next four contenders, Miami, Tulsa Central "B", Tahlequah, and Vinita, with not a point scored against the Blue and Gold.

The following tilts with Nowata and Pawhuska, the strong treats in the Verdigris Valley Conference, were lost but the Tigers were "up" for the remaining games, vanquishing Strang and our long-time rivals, the Claremore Zebras.

Our squad took several honors this year. The team placed third in the Verdigris Valley Conference; Jacks was chosen for first string on the all-conference eleven and the all-state North team; Kiesel made second team in all-conference and won honorable mention from all-state. McCollough, Patterson, Ellis, and Stafford were awarded honorable mention for the all-conference team.

Ste-rike three! Drake's out.

Brrrrr—Kenneth and Loren really look cold. Such weather brings to mind the need for warm coats and other clothes which naturally bring into mind the Globe Store with its most complete stock of all sorts of women's winter wear. For the exclusive woman, no store in Pryor has a better reputation for pleasing its customers.

Now can you think of anything cuter
Than "Tex" Branson atop a scooter?
With Norma at his back,
They'll go out on their "hack,"
Advertising Wallace-Clark to each suitor.

Gretchen certainly seems pleased with those dresses she's looking at, doesn't she? Of course, this is no unusual occurrence at McCollough's where only the finest lines of goods are sold. Friendly service such as Benny is giving really makes this store one of Pryor's loveliest shopping centers.

Six happy students were talking so gay
In Hayes Drug Store after school one day;
And it's plain to see
Why they're so full of glee.
They're at the store with "that winning way."

Babs and Tommy really look pretty as a picture, don't you think? The selling of lovely furniture and dependable electric and mechanical equipment combine to make Reding's a most desirable business house to purchase your needs from.

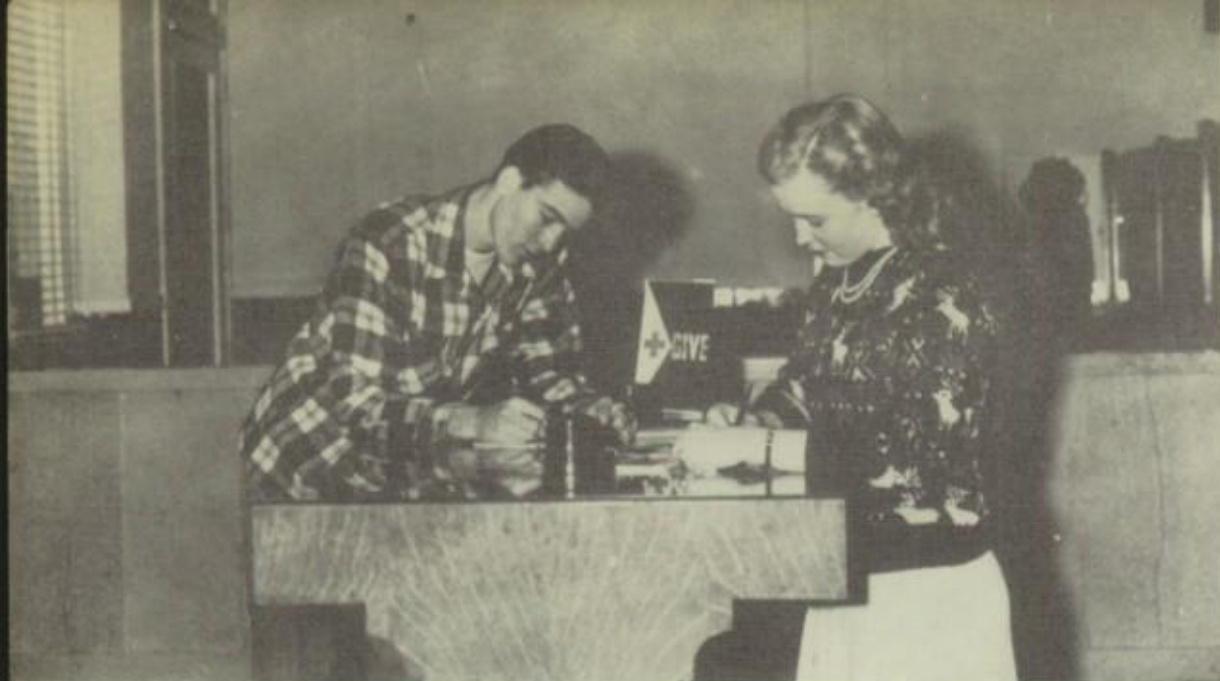

Food's what Bill and Shirley need
But the laws of thrift they have to heed;
Then in Herb's Cafe
Is where they should stay Till from hunger they feel they are freed.

"All the comforts of home" would describe Nelson's Furniture Co. very aptly. But why shouldn't it when anyone can plainly see how contented Marietta, C. W., Jerry, and Lois look. If quality merchandise is wanted, this fine store will have it.

"Pud" and Gene went one day to the door
Of the popular Post Office Book Store.
They saw some magazines
That certainly were screams,
So they're going back again for some more.

Money, money, who's got the money?
It looks as though Arthur and Jean might be trying to cash in on some of it. There's one thing certain, however, if collateral or cash is needed, the American National Bank is always ready and willing to give courteous and friendly service to your business.

There is many a well-known face
In this very familiar place;
Francis and Irene
Can always be seen
At Fowler's, where quantity and value
keep pace.

Why didn't you tell us about this,
John? We didn't know you and Margaret were going to start housekeeping so soon. Seriously, though, for the best in household and farm equipment,
seeds, tools, and lumber, shop at Pryor Lumber and Grain, the place where quality and quantity go hand-in-hand.

Kenneth and Wanda are sitting down
At a business of fair renown;
Jeffersonian is the name,
All have heard of its fame,
'Tis the show window of our town.

"Stop at the sign of the Circle Arrow," says the announcer as he advertises the Western Auto stores all over the country. And good advice should never go unheeded as Wanda and Lee can tell you. If anything is needed for car or home, stop at this friendly store in the friendly town.

Chastain's is the store in this town
Where Harold bought for Phyllis a gown;
But her words we quote:
"I would like a coat";
So they looked till this coat they found.

Yum! Yum! Does that food look good! Bill and Ann are two of this establishment's most ardent supporters. If it's the best in food you want, then by all means stop at the Chili Bowl and enjoy a delicious meal.

Gist Motor Co. is the store
Where your money will buy more;
But Jimmy and Pat
Already know that,
It's the Speedliner boat they adore.

Which is the prettier, Norma or the flowers? Quite hard to decide, eh? Jo Ann seems to be taking in all the beauty and there is certainly plenty. If gorgeously cut bouquets, potted plants, or shrubs are needed, Wright's Greenhouse can give you a fine supply.

In a "better business" roll,
Mayes Motor we shall extoll.
For the best auto parts
And for smooth auto starts,
"Buy here," say LaQuita and Joel.

Bob is certainly learning early in life, isn't he? Margie is a good enough teacher, too. The only hard thing about shopping at Bynum's Grocery Store is choosing from the large variety of delectable foods.

Ten pretty "Imps" all in a row,
Have enjoyed the picture at the Castle Show.
Their smiles are so sunny,
It must have been funny,
To give their faces such a "fresh-air glow."

Betty Lou evidently plans on "beautifying" herself, from the looks of the quality merchandise she is about to purchase. Douglas knows that for the latest magazines and quick fountain service, the place to go is Martin Drug.

Carl is willing to confide
That of his shirt he is full of pride;
Marieta can tell you,
And Ivaughn will sell you
At the Band Box where good cleaners reside.

"That's a fine-looking coat you have there,"—thinks James as Raymond shows him some of the fine stock at Mayes Mercantile, one of Pryor's leading department stores. No place in this city can give better service or higher quality to the public.

The Sunshine Hatchery has seed,
Poultry, provisions, and feed.
For farmers' supplies
Their clerks are so wise;
Upon this Sue and Bert are agreed.

With a name that has stood for only the finest service, the Harris Funeral Home has served Pryor and Mayes County faithfully for several years. The sadness caused by death in a family has been lightened many times by the fine service rendered by this business.

'Tis a deed that Jack and Thomas had lacked,
They just had to have it, in fact;
So down town they went,
By their folks being sent
And got it at Mayes County Abstract.

The good people of Pryor have learned long ago where to go for all their metal goods. Fred Fleak's Tin Shop has proved itself to be outstanding by providing the city with various items of metal, wastebaskets and eavestroughs being just two of the great number.

At Wilkerson Real Estate,
You will get the lowest rate;
Virginia, Bo, and Joe
Will all tell you so;
Get your property before it's too late.

Dear Pat,
Believe it or not, I can't think of anything appropriate, (that is the way to spell it isn't it?)
not even a sarcastic remark.

But I don't think I have ever known anyone ~~who~~ who I have had as much fun with as you and Joan. (Don't want to hurt anyone's feelings)

Thanks for all the good times.
